

Coldwater Peak, Harry's Ridge

Take exit 49 off Interstate 5, heading east on Hwy 504 towards the Mt. St. Helens visitor centers (there are multiple visitor centers; you want Johnston Ridge Observatory).

After about 42 miles, at the Science and Learning junction, make a right, going to Coldwater Lake and Johnston Ridge.

Go about 8 more miles to the end of the highway and the large parking lot.

In the northeast corner of the parking lot, look for a reader board. This is the trailhead.

You will need to either carry a Northwest Forest Pass or pay the visitor's fee (bracelet, purchase in Observatory) to access the trail.

No fees for parking, though.
