

Goat Rocks Extended Tour

62 miles total (including side trips), 12,000' gained

Minimal trail directions being given. . . If you're doing this trip, it is assumed you're experienced enough to follow this simple guide and figure things out as you go.

Start at Packwood Lake trailhead. At the lake, go up Coyote Ridge to the PCT (elevation gain is substantial), cross Knife's Edge (side trip: summit Old Snowy), and head down to Cispus Basin. Crest Cispus Pass, turning right off the PCT at Sheep Lake, #98.

From Walupt Lake, do a short road walk on FR 2160, picking up 7A on the right. Follow flagging across and along old roads.

7A pops out at FR 2150; follow to Berry Patch trailhead, and #95.

Head up to Jordan Basin – with side trip to Hawkeye Point – before descending to Goat Lake and Snowgrass area.

Take #96 to PCT, and then north again across Knife's Edge. At Packwood Saddle, take #81 back down through the forest and along the lake.

Mileages between dots are approx.