

Table Mountain

16 miles total, 3,900' gained

From the Bonneville trailhead lot, proceed about a ½ mile to the junction with the PCT. Turn left, passing by Gillette Lake about two miles further.

At about 6 miles from the lot, pass the junction with the alternate trailhead. In about a ½ mile, pass the board for the east Table Mtn./Heartbreak trail (return route), then go ½ mile or so further to the west Heartbreak trail board.

Go right, steeply uphill for about a mile to the summit area of Table Mtn. The trails can be confusing on the north side of the summit, but generally head east for views from the cliff area. To make the 1 ½ mile or so descent, look for a well-used trail just west of the cliffs signed 'Pac. Crest Trail'. Take this, going left at the nearby junction as you go steeply downhill.

Descend straight down the talus slope, picking up the trail again on the east side of the rock field. Carry on, turning left at the junction with the PCT; return about 6 ½ miles from this point the way you came up.

Note: the alternate trailhead route is about 8 miles roundtrip. Should only be used if not crossing private property.

